Veterinary Notes for Sydney CVI3* and Australian National Championships

Veterinary Delegate: Gillian Burns, BSc, DVM, Dip Eq. Manip.
Permitted Treating Vet: Agnes Banks Veterinarians

At this event, FEI rules will be followed and applied to all horses competing in CVI events.

There will be two horse inspections.

Examination on Arrival:

As per Article 1032, all horses will be inspected upon arrival prior to entering the stables. This examination is to identify the horse and conduct a brief physical examination. This is not a lameness or fitness test. If you have any biosecurity concerns about your horse at that time, please let Dr Gillian Burns know.

In order to complete this inspection, I will need to meet you at SIEC upon your arrival. If you could please text me with a rough idea of your arrival times, I will organise to be there before you arrive. Since SIEC is a 2-hour drive from my place, please give me time to get there. My number is: 0408-187-639. Your horse should not move into its box or be close to other competitors until after it has been examined.

Horse Inspection:

This is known as the Trot-up and is scheduled for Wednesday, 2pm. Horses should be presented in a bridle, the bridle number attached to the left side. The handler can carry a whip up to 120cm long.

During the course of the event, all CVI horses are under the FEI Veterinary Regulations. This means that they cannot be attended to by a veterinarian unless it is the PTV organised by the OC, or unless the attending veterinarian is a PTV and has made his or her presence known to the Veterinary Delegate. This includes overnight emergencies.

FEI Equine Anti-Doping and Controlled Medication Regulations: (EDMCP Control)

CVI horses may be subjected to random testing by the FEI throughout the entire CVI event. National horses may be subjected to testing by EA.

Please keep in mind that the veterinarians are there to help you get your horse into competition. It is our job to assist you in supporting your horse throughout the weekend. If you are unsure of how we can help, please come and speak with one of us.
